Baltimore, Oct. 18.-In the Episcopal General Convention there were two brilliant debates to-day. The Dr. Huntington's proposed amendments to the conto-morrow. In the afternoon a meeting of the Board st. yesterday. The speaker was Mayor Grant, and of Missions was held. The Rev. William B. Gordon. although the Mayor of New-York did not remark to a missionary of the church in Mexico, addressed the the Mayor of Chicago that it was a long way beboard in regard to his work. A resolution placing the mission work of the church in Mexico under the care of the board was debated, Bishops Paret and Doane coming out in sharp antagonism of the question. The church was crowded with deeply interested speciators during the whole day. Morning teresied spectators during the whole day. Morning prayer was said by Bishop Sessums, of Louisiana, and Dr. Drowne, of Long Island. J. H. Stiness, of Rhode ad, offered a resolution appointing a joint comton of seven bishops, seven presbyters and seven "I return the compliment," said the Mayor at the nission of seven bishops, seven presbyters and seven laymen to prepare a standard Bible; the resolution New-York end, taking up the parable in his turn, "and was placed on the calendar. Stone, of Pennsylvania; Coit, of New-Hampshire, and Nelson, of Virginia, and Mr. Bowhey, of Colorado, spoke against the amendments, on the ground that the so-called Chicago-Lambeth declaration was ly the opinion of certain bishops and not the of the Anglican Church; that American Christianity is not ready for any such scheme of Christian unity as the amendments contemplate, and that their adoption would imperil the faith of the Church, outting it in a document which could be altered or abrogated by a vote of the convention. The speeche were notable for two things, the elevated and states manike key in which they were pitched and their freedom from partisanship. High Churchmen and Low Churchmen were found on both sides of the question. The speech of Dr. Stone, of Pennsylvania, was especially well received by the house. Pending further discussion of the question, the hour for recess arrived, Dr. Bates, of Ohio, being recognized as having the floor.

Board of Missions, Bishop Whipple, of Minnesota, being chairman. The Rev. Dr. Batteshall, of Albany, presented the report of a special committee on the ork of the board of managers. In foreign lands and in the West the missions of the church are full opet. The Woman's Auxiliary and the children's Lenten offerings have been of great assistance. The total receipts of the board last year were $569,426 46. The church was completely filled when the Rev. William B. Gordon, the missionary in Mexico, was introduced. He spoke at length on the result of his work there. People think, he said, that missionaries ought to go to pagan lands only, but there is plenty of paganism in Mexico. The work of the Church has en greatly prospered, and he appealed for more oney to extend it and the sanction of the Church, At the close of Mr. Gordon's address, Dr. Satterlee, of New-York, offered a resolution adopted by the Advisory Comfattee for Church Work in Mexico, asking the Board of Missions to take the entire charge and responsibility of Mr. Gordon's work, he having been supported only by private contiributions during the last six years. Dr. Satterlee declared that the reasons which at first prevented the board from taking the work in charge no longer existed and that the time had come for an olicial sanction of it. Mr. Gordon which all the work in charge no longer existed and that the time had come for an olicial sanction of it. Mr. Gordon which and the olicial state of deliars out of their own pockets, pid thousands of dediars out of their own pockets. Divisions at home and in Mexico have all been healed and the outbook is full of hope.

The ports of Sayanilla and Carthagena, have been opened to commerce. The restrictions lately put into force there, were so severe that the steamship Alene was forced to return to this port without landing passengers, mail and freight. The ports had been declared closed, and no definite information could be secured by the Alene's captain as to how long she might have to remain in quarantine, so he decided to put back to New-York. The Allsa will sail on October 26, with the freight and mails.

Mrs. Matilda Sabail. a young French woman, was before Deputy Collector Phelps yesterday charged with smuggling, and a number of costumes she had with smuggling, and a number of costumes she had brought here for Redfern, the Fifth-ave, dressmaker, were soized. Mrs. Sabail arrived on the City of New-York on September 8. With her she brought a trunk full of new dresses. She declared that they were nothing but her own personal wearing apparel. She was going to attend the World's Fair and wanted the dresses to wear during her prolatored. the dresses to wear during her prolonged slay. The trunk, which had been sent to the public stores, was sent to the Hotel Martin, where the woman was staying, on October 1, after she had made several afidavits to establish her right to import the goods free. That very day she sent the trunk and went herself to Redfern's establishment. There all the dresses except two, which were sent to Chicago, were placed on sale. Special Inspectors Traittour and Senguen have been at work on the case for several days. They seized all the dresses in this city yester-day, and the Redferns telegraphed to Chicago to have day, and the Realerns telegraphed to Chicago to have the two others sent back, and promised to give them up. Mrs. Sabali was taken to the Custom-House, and there told the whole story to Deputy Collector Phelps. She said that Ernest Rediern gave her the goods in London to bring here, and also gave her £55 to pay the duty if she was obliged to. The money, she insulates, was to come from her salary if she had to pay it. As she did not, she returned it to the house.

CUTTING DOWN THE ESTIMATE.

MISSIONERS ACCUSE ONE ANOTHER. The estimates of the Commissioners of Charitie and Correction were the first taken up by the Board of Estimate yesterday. They asked for $2,640,540 for 1893. These figures were cut down to $2,196,525.
About $75,000 was taken from the salary list, $260,-000 from the item of supplies and maintenance, and $110,000 from the amount asked for new buildings. As passed, the provisional estimates of the depart ment stand about $26,000 over the final appropria tions for last year. When the Commissioners Board of Education came forward with their estimates for the coming year they were severely scored by the Mayor for their failure to submit them in time. Mayor told them that for this reason the Board of Estimate could not consider an expenditure for the year of over $4,000,000. The School Commissioner had arranged to ask for $4,508,845. President Barke said: "The Board of Education defies the law, and we are retarded in our duties through its negligence.' President Hunt defended the School Board, but Com missioner Lummis blamed President Hunt and his clerk, saying that the delay was all their fault. such thing, sir," retorted President Hunt. THE CLEVELAND PREACHER IS IN DEMAND I MANY PLACES.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 18 .- The Rev. Dr. Paul Fred erick Sutphen, pastor of the Woodland Avenue Pres byterian Church of this city, has had invitations from four prominent churches within a few weeks. Not long ago he refused a call to the Collegiate Reformed Church of Harlem, N. Y., and now he is considering invitations from committees representing Calvary Pres byterian Church of this city, the Second Presbyterian Church of Newtrk, N. J., and the Fourth Avenue Church of New-York City. Calvary Church is the wealthlest Presbyterian church of this city, and strong effort is being made to retain Dr. Sutphen in Cleveland. It is possible, however, that the invitation of the Fourth Avenue Church of New-York City will be favorable received.

The members of the committee on pastorate of the Fourth Avenue Church refused to talk upon the sul ject of Dr. Sutphen's invitation lifst night. One of them admitted that Dr. Sutphen's name had been under consideration, but said that no name had been presented to the church body as a whole.

Dr. Sutphen was born in Brooklyn on January 15, 1856. He was graduated with honor from Ruigers College in 1876, and studied theology at Union Seminary in this city. He was ordained by the Lutheran Synod of New-York and New-Jersey on October 26, 1879, and became the paster of the Lutheran Church at Volatie, N. Y., where he remained until 1881. After a brief stay in Minnesota, he was called to the First Presbyterian Church of Elizabeth, N. J., where he succeeded the Rev. Dr. E. C. Ray, now of Chicago. In 1886 he was invited to take the pulpit of the Woodland Avenue Church of Cleveland, where he has had a brilliant and successful pastorate. ject of Dr. Sutphen's invitation last night. One o

STAMFORD IN HOLIDAY MOOD.

THOUSANDS VISIT THE NAVAL VESSELS IN THE

HARBOR-TO-DAY'S EXERCISES. Stamford, Conn., Oct. 18 (Special).-The population of this town did full honor to-day to the naval vessels off the harbor. The streets leading to the docks were black with all sorts of vehicles and pedestrians, while a fleet of six steamboats and numbers of yachts and rowboats were unable to transfer the throngs of visitors to the white ships. Vexations, delays, boats stuck in the mud, involuntary baths, etc., did not dampen the ardor of the populace, who were in a thoroughly cheerful holiday mood. Captain Montgomery Sicard, of the Miantonomoh; Captain F. J. Higginson, of the Atlanta; Lieutenant Scaton schroeder, of the Vesuvius, with their officers and men, did everything in their power to accommodate visitors and show them the workings of the guns, engines, etc. The Navy boats piled between the great vessels, carrying everybody free, and the people vere delighted with the hospitality shown. Probably 5,000 people visited the ships.

The town is now lavishly decorated. The great arch bears the magic figures "1641-1892." for the feeding and stands for the seating of 6,000 people are ready. With a salute of twenty-one guns from each vessel at sunrise, ringing of the town bells at sunrise, noon and sunset, the music of thirty bands, the procession of over 100 bodies of soldiery, firemen, veterans, fraternities, etc., the literary exercises, band concert and fireworks, the local pride will be filled to overflowing to-morrow. At the exercises in the Town Hall to-morrow afternoon there will probably be short addresses by United States Senator Platt, Lieutenant-Governor Merwin ex-Governor Louisbury, Commander J. D. Smith, E. L. Scofield and Thomas G. Ritch. The oration, as heretofore announced, will be by the Rev. Dr. R. P. H. Vall. George H. Hoyt, president of the People's Committee, will preside. A poem writter by Charles H. Crandall, of Springdale, will be read A sonnet by the Rev. J. G. Davenport, of Waterbury, will also be read. It is rumored that ex-President Cleveland will be here to-morrow as the guest of General W. W. Skiddy.

WHAT TO DO WITH THE CITY'S REFUSE.

A COMMITTEE SUGGESTS THAT IT ALL BE USED TO FILL IN LAND AT RIKER'S ISLAND. Controller Myers and President Barker, of the Tax Department, who were appointed a committee Board of Estimate to examine the subject of final dis-position of street collections, submitted their report yesterday. It carefully and exhaustively reviews the entire subject and recommends that the present sys-tem of disposing of the refuse by carrying it out to sea be abandoned, and that it be used for filling in land under water at Riker's Island. The disposal of the garbage by cremation is discussed, but left for future decision. The report shows that the present method is wasteful and extravagant. The com mittee, taking the figures of the Mayor's advisory committee on street cleaning as a basis, prove the material deposited in the dumps is composed of ashe street sweepings 24 per cent, lee and snow 2 per cent. It is shown that the street material can easily be carried to Riker's Island and tha the towage would be less than one-half involved in the present system. The saving which would thus be effected by making Riker's Island the point of final disposition is placed at $180,000 a year, or $613, 711.90 during the period necessary for filling in those lands under water. The city would thus gain 394 actes of upland. The net benefit is estimated a $1,101,523.90.

The report goes on to say: "The chief advantage in utilizing Riker,s Island for this purpose is that no separation of ashes from garbage would be necessary during the time when the question of selecting the most efficacious method for such separation may be under advisement, and that the work may be carried on in such a manner that if some definite system of separation and garbage cremation may be finally decided upon, the work of filling in Riker's Island, once accomplished, the city will be at once free to avail itself of the more desirable system, with a most practheable beneat already secured. The Health Depart ment has evinced its desire to aid in this matter b every means within its power, and expresses to us a willingness to assume the sanitary supervision of the dumping and disinfection of all material that may be placed behind the cribwork at Riker's Island.

A letter from the president of the Board of Health accompanies the report, which asserts that all "ma-terial, including garbage, which may be dumped at this point, behind cribwork or rip-rap, and submerged by salt water, can under no circumstances be dele erious to health, even without inspection and disinfection; and that as to all material dumped above high-water mark, it will be cared for by the Health Department, and thoroughly disinfected in such a manner as to make it entirely harmless and inor Impressed with the peculiarities and delays of the contract system, the committee "recommends that the Commissioner of Street Cleaning be called upon to the Commissioner of Street Cleaning be called upon to report to the Board of Estimate which method, whether by contract, or by the city with its own plant and furnishing its own labor, would, in his judgment, effect such final disposition most efficiently and economically, and that the Dock Department be requested to prepare plans and estimates for the building around Riker's Island, in sections, of an enclosure of either rip rap or cribwork, as in their judgment may be more destrable and economical, in accordance with the recommendations of this report.

"We also redoffmend that one or more public hearings be given on the subject of the scientific final disposition of garbage, by cremation, desiccation or otherwise, at which the various systems proposed may be fully explained and discussed, with a view toward the ultimate adoption of such a system as may be proved to solve the problem of the sanitary and economic disposition of the garbage of the city of New York."

The

Milnesville is a mining village and is surrounded by a number of small patches. They are inhabited almost wholly by the foreign-speaking element and, as a consequence, nothing is known of them outside of what may be gained from some of the older people, who have remained neutral on the subject of the feud, which has stirred up strife among the Italians feed, which has sirred up strife among the Italians and Hungarians. About a year ago a Hungarian was killed in the "stripping" by an Italian. To this, it is believed, is due the ill-feeling which caused Sunday's riot. The people are extremely ignorant, and live in the most abject squalor. As many as ninety-live men are known to cat and sleep in one six-room house. They live in the woods, apart from the world, and when not reveiling in drunken orgies, are hatening plans of violence, conside associations they have none, and they positively resent the approach of Americans.

THE COURTS.

THE SUIT HAD A SUSPICIOUS LOOK.

Samuel Stiller and his wife bought a lot from Ignats Kaufman on July 28, 1891, so they allege, in a complaint which they have filed in the Supreme Court. They say that they retained Henry Gottlieb, a lawyer, to search the title and he reported that it was all right. They now charge that Gottlieb on the sallie day executed a deed in the name of the plaintiffs to himsecured a deed in the name of the plantum to him-self, of this same property, for $12,000, subject to two mortgages amounting to $5,000, which had been previously recorded. Stiller alleges that this deed is a forgery and a fraud upon himself and his wife. They brought a suit to have the deed set aside and made these therees of forgery. No answer was interpreted these charges of forgery. No answer was interposed by Gottlieb, and a motion was made before Justice Patterson for a judgment on the complaint by default. Justice Patterson thought it strange that a lawyer had not appeared to answer such serious charges as those made and he denied the motion yesterday. In the memorandum denying the motion he says: "This matter requires explanation. From the condition of the papers it looks as though it were a collusive suit. But as it may not be, the plaintiff is allowed to ex-

Hayes & Greenbaum appeared for the plaintiffs and the defendant had put in a notice of appearance only, without pretending to defend the suit. The defendant appeared by Edward McKinley, and the notice of appearance was written on a sheet of Hayes & Greenbaum's note paper.

HIS OPINION OF DIVORCE DETECTIVES.

Judge Pryor, in the Court of Common Pleas, yesterday expressed his opinion in strong terms of private detectives who are hired in divorce suits to procure evidence. The case was one in which Mrs. Grace Grauer was suing her husband, Frank Grauer, a young physician, for an absolute divorce. The wife a young physician, for an absolute and secured as witnesses Charles B. Von Gerichten, a sen of Police Captain Von Gerichten, and William H. Bolshaw, detectives; and Woodson R. Oglesby, a law yer, who had also acted as a detective, to the alleged rongful acts of the defendant. At the close of their testimony, Chauncy S. Truax, who appeared for the defendant, made a motion to dismiss the com-plaint, on the ground of the insufficiency of the evidence. Judge Pryor granted the motion at once and dence. Judge Pryor granted the motion at once and in strong terms severely criticised and commented upon the evidence that had been produced, in order to secure a divorce. He said that the story told by the three witnesses as to the alleged acts of infidelity seemed to him to be untruthful and unworthy of credence. He referred to the two detectives as hirelings, who had probably been paid to create such evidence as they had brought in, such as was their reg-ular business, but as to the lawyer who appeared to give evidence, the judge said that he was even worse than these hirelings, because he was a member of

A MADDENED ELEPHANT LOOSE IN THE STREETS.

Chicago, Oct. 18 .- Duchess, the big elephant in Lincoln Park, while being taken to her winter quarters this morning, suddenly became maddened and escap-ing her keeper, rushed out of the park, through the crowded streets, tearing up sidewalks, twisting in pieces iron fences, breaking heavy doors, tossing about wagons, frightening women and children, and playing sad havoe with flower beds. It was two hours before a wagonlead of police could effect her capture, though confining her depredations meanwhile to a limited area in the neighborhood of North Clark-st, and Webstor-ave. During her freedom Duchess killed a horse attached to a milk wagon, and smashed the vehicle itself to kindling wood. She had been uneasy for several days, and had taken little or no food.
